DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. Claims 1, 3, 5 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sonnabend US 4,384,096 or Gassenmeier et al. US 2001/0031714 each taken alone and in view of Eisenhart et al. US 5,451,641.

4. Sonnabend US 4,384,096 or Gassenmeier et al. US 2001/0031714 teach "controlled" or "(physico)chemical switch" which use polyelectrolyte polymeric blends, see Sonnabend at columns 6 lines 7+, and Gassenmeier et al. [0142].

5. These patents further suggest the polymer crosslinking as claimed, see Sonnabend at columns 7 lines 5+, and Gassenmeier et al. [0143].

6. The difference between the claimed invention and the cited art is that the art fails to provide an example of the multi stage polymerization.

Art Unit: 1713

7. The Eisenhart et al. patent shows the use of multi-stage polymerization process for the preparation of polymer particles. This patent uses the claimed monomers and those used in Sonnabend and Gassenmeier et al.

8. One of ordinary skill would find it prima facie obvious to use the multi-stage process of Eisenhart et al. for the preparation of the polymer particles of Sonnabend and Gassenmeier et al.

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

10. Claims 1,3, and 10 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 of copending Application No. 10/619,061 and claims 1-10 of copending Application No. 10/348,375 in view of Eisenhart et al.

11. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed triggered response composition claimed uses the same polyelectrolyte polymer blend as those in the copending claims. The crosslinked nature of the 2nd polymer is suggested in the claims in 10/619,061 by the incorporation of the crosslinking agents. The polyethylenically unsaturated monomer incorporated in the polymer blend of 10/348,375 suggests crosslinking. The Eisenhart et al. patent renders obvious the multi-stage polymerization process limitations.

Conclusion

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.
